

I being a frequent traveler on the ferry to Put in Bay find it absurd to apply security measures on the ferry boats. The government should use a little common sense. The economy is bad as it is. Don't make it any worse by discouraging vacationers from using the ferrys like you have on using the airplanes. The airlines bankruptcy is enough blight on the economy.